

GERMAN PRINCE BORN ON GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Crown Princess Cecelia Presents Fatherland With Lusty Heir Presumptive to Throne Amid Great Rejoicing—Kaiser Receives Wireless.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

BERLIN, July 4.—Crown Princess Cecelia, who was safely accouched of a son at 9:15 o'clock this morning.

The guns of a battery of artillery began to fire slowly in the square opposite the palace at about noon and tens of thousands within hearing of the salute stopped in the streets or paused in their work counting the guns, for it had long been announced that 72 shots would be fired for a girl and 161 for a boy.

Seventy-two! Seventy-two! Seventy-three!

Then the city knew that an heir presumptive had been born. About half a million copies of the Official Gazette containing the following proclamation are given away:

BOTH DOING WELL.

"Her Imperial and Royal Highness, the Crown Princess of the German Empire and Prussia, was happily delivered of a Prince at 9:15 a.m. in the Marble Palace at Potsdam, to the joy of His Majesty, the Emperor, Her Majesty, the Empress and the entire royal household. This pleasing event will be made known to the inhabitants of Berlin through the usual cannon shots. The Crown Princess and the Prince are in the best condition."

(Signed) "Minister of the Royal House."

BUILDINGS DECORATED.

All the public and many private buildings are decorated with flags. Although prayers have been said in the churches since the second day in June, the event was hardly expected at noon, the Crown Princess having arranged to take an early drive this morning.

NO BABYLONIAN BRICKS.

Lord Northcliffe Will See That the Largest United States Newspaper Gets White Paper.

NEW YORK, July 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Many newspaper proprietors are not alive to the danger that threatens them in the shape of a scant supply of paper or the already exorbitant and increasing prices for that material was the substance of a statement made today by Lord Northcliffe (Sir Alfred Harmsworth), who arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse of the North German Lloyd line.

Lord Northcliffe said that, though having acquired a large stock of paper in Newfoundland, his own large interests, but those of a dozen of the largest newspapers in the United States as well. He is the proprietor of fifty-eight newspapers and periodicals.

Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust League Explains, Through Its Head, That It Is Not a Democratic Organization—Populists of Kansas Will Name a State Ticket.

NEW YORK, July 4.—William Hoge, president of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust League, today sent a letter to President Roosevelt, inviting him to preside at the reception to be tendered William J. Bryan in this city, upon the latter's arrival from Europe, early in September.

Hoge explained in his letter that the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust League is not a Democratic organization, nor a partisan organization in any sense; and that the organization regards President Roosevelt as being as much opposed to the trusts as is Bryan.

HAD NOT SEEN McCLELLAN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, July 4.—There has been no meeting between William J. Bryan and Mayor McClellan of New York so far, but both were to attend the reception of Ambassador Whitehead this afternoon and the dinner of the American Society tonight.

Bryan this morning said that he had not seen McClellan, but that he had met him at the hotel where he was staying. He added that he had been invited to meet him, but that he had declined to do so.

He also said that he had been invited to meet McClellan at the hotel where he was staying, but that he had declined to do so.

WOMAN DIES FOR LOVE.

Leaps from Ohio Bridge Into Deep Gorge Because of Malicious Gossip.

AKRON, (O.) July 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Disappointed in a love affair, Alice Funk, aged 22, who came here a year ago from Wooster, O., stepped from a street car between Akron and Cuyahoga Falls today and, climbing to the railing of the bridge over the Little Cuyahoga River, she jumped into the gorge, 315 feet below. Death was instantaneous.

The young woman plunged into a foot of water, after turning over in the air three times.

When her body was removed from the stream it was discovered that her neck and both arms were broken.

Friends of the girl assert that her act was caused by malicious gossip which linked her name with that of a married man boarding at her home.

Socialist Hardie Writes to Native Chief Expressing Hope That the Race Will Defend Itself.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

LONDON, July 4.—James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and Independent Labor leader and member of Parliament, has addressed what is considered to be a most extraordinary letter to a Zulu subject in Edinburgh, in which he says the wholehearted massacre of natives now going on in South Africa, under the pretense of suppressing a rebellion which does not exist, fills one with shame and horror.

"I hope," he wrote, "the day will come specifically when your race will be able to defend itself against the barbarities now perpetrated against it."

SOCORRO'S SEVEREST QUAKE.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The severest earthquake that Socorro has experienced in five years, and which awakened the city's sleeping population at 3:15 o'clock, Monday morning, was doubtless caused by a slipping of strata in the Magdalena Mountains, twenty-five miles away, and was entirely local. There were no less than twenty shocks, great and small, during the day, and one rather severe one Monday night.

SAYS LETTERS WERE FORGED.

MRS. HARTJE'S ATTORNEY HAS DEFENSE LINED OUT.

Declares Client is Victim of Plot and That He Can Produce Forged Assistant Dist. Atty. Robb Believes Gigantic Conspiracy May Be Unearthed in Divorce Case.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PITTSBURGH, July 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) John S. Robb, first assistant District Attorney, who has had charge of the development in the Hartje divorce case since its beginning, said today:

"It is evident that there has been a gigantic conspiracy in this case. Just who the guilty parties are cannot be told now but it is evident to every unprejudiced person that certain things have been done in this case which demand the attention of the public prosecutor."

Attorneys for Mrs. Hartje are elated over their success so far, and are confident of winning the case. John Freeman, one of Mrs. Hartje's counsel, said:

"We are prepared to prove that the letters submitted to the court as having been written by Mrs. Hartje and Tom Madine are forgeries. At the proper moment we will present evidence which will settle this beyond a doubt."

"We are allowing the other side all the latitude it desires in the questioning of witnesses. The more the attorneys question the more they bring out."

The defense, it is understood, is prepared not only to prove that the letters were forged, but will produce the forger and give evidence to show the circumstances under which the forger was made.

Mrs. Hartje's attorneys are equally confident of their position. John Martin said:

"We are prepared to show where we got those letters and just how they came into our possession."

MILLIONS OF MONEY FOR THAW'S DEFENSE.

Col. H. Sellers McKee Says He Would Put Up Fifty Thousand Dollars If the Family Should Do Nothing—Ice Cream for Prisoners.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, July 4.—It is likely that Thaw will have at his command more money than any prisoner ever before brought to trial for murder in New York. His father, William Thaw of Pittsburgh, is said to have left a fortune of $40,000,000, which has increased enormously, and every dollar that can be used is available for the defense.

Col. H. Sellers McKee, president of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh, now living in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said today:

"I was a school of old William Thaw, and interested in business ventures with him, and on account of him I would do anything in my power for the boy. There are many other men who feel the same as I do.

"If the members of the family were unwilling to come to the front for Harry, I should do so. I believe all the Thaws will help him, but if they do not do so, I should be willing to advance whatever may be needed for his defense.

"I should be willing to put up possibly $50,000, and there are plenty of friends of old William Thaw who would do just as much to help the young man get off."

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is expected by the District Attorney's office that it will come into possession, tomorrow, of the affidavit made by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in the action which, it is said, she contemplated taking against Thaw before their marriage. If the District Attorney should be successful in his quest for this instrument, it is the belief of lawyers that Thaw's defense will suffer a terrible blow.

Stanford White, whom Thaw slew, had a big hand in directing the preparation of the affidavit. When the paper was signed and sealed, it is said, White insisted that it be placed in a depository where not even the partners of the lawyer before whom it was drawn could get at it.

White's reason for this secrecy was that it would be no small temptation for the majority of men to have a knowledge of its contents against a man of Thaw's position and wealth.

IMPORTANT DETECTIVE FINDING

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) John E. McKenna, head of a detective agency said to have been employed by Harry Kendall Thaw to trace Stanford White, the architect whom he shot, was one of the first witnesses examined yesterday by Assistant Dist. Atty. Garvan. When he reached the Criminal Courts building he had with him copies of the reports made by his agency to Thaw. These reports were turned over to Garvan and will, beyond doubt, be used when the Thaw case comes to trial.

The testimony of McKenna is regarded by the state as being of great importance. It is reported that it corroborates the story told by Paul L. Bergoff, the detective employed by White, it is said, to shadow the men in Thaw's party. Bergoff said, before he was called upon to give his statement before the assistant District Attorney, that he was ready to go on the witness stand and prove that White was not the kind of man that he had been painted.

L. W. Rork, ex-superintendent of the business conducted by McKenna, was examined further by Garvan. Rork is authorized by the statement that Thaw was unfairly dealt with. Other detectives than McKenna were examined.

BUY PRISONERS ICE CREAM. Thaw gave his fellow male prisoners at the Boreas a pleasant surprise today by treating them all to cream and cake.

Thaw had a talk with Rev. John A. Wade, the Episcopal clergyman, who attends to the spiritual needs of the Protestant prisoners. Thaw asked the minister if the Fourth of July was being observed in any special way in the prison.

"Well," answered the clergyman, "I've just finished a task that falls upon me every Independence Day, that of supplying the women and boys with ice cream and cake.

"The minister said that the men were unexcused for in that respect. Thaw asked him to get enough to go around and send the bill to him. Rev. Wade did not request, buying forty-six quarts of ice cream and thirty dozen cakes.

Thaw's wife was not permitted to visit him today, the rule excluding visitors being in effect the same as Sundays.

He was insulted and put out of President Cabrera's house, and but for the timely intervention of the Mexican consul, would have been thrown into jail. For this reason, the saddest of the government severed relations with the Guatemalan government.

Consul Bankhart says that even in Guatemala City President Cabrera was not dare go forth in the streets, being in mortal fear of his life. His food is sent to him by his mother in a large tin, securely locked to prevent it being poisoned. He is so afraid of assassination that he does not sleep two consecutive nights in the same room.

The people of the Guatemalan city are in sympathy with the revolutionists. Another informant says that Cabrera has become so mortally ill, he is suspicious as to have imprisoned the wives of leading citizens. The wife of Gen. Barillas is still hiding in the mountains, and the wife of the president is in a similar position.

The policy of the revolutionists is to continue a guerrilla warfare.

ROW OVER VAUDEVILLE. Injunction Asked by Manager Against United Booking Office Up to Supreme Court.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) NEW YORK, July 4.—Supreme Court Justice Blanchard reserved decision yesterday on the question as to whether a permanent injunction should issue to Frank Melville, a vaudeville manager, restraining the United Booking Office of America from alleged interference with his business.

The concern is the booking agent of the Keith-Franklin Amusement Company. It has a circuit including 166 houses while Melville manages houses in Albany, Syracuse and several other cities.

A production of which J. A. Moros was manager was booked for Melville's circuit. Moros, it is alleged, broke his contract which was for only two weeks when informed, it is said, that he would have to decide between Melville and the United Booking Office of America.

It was urged in support of the injunction that this was a conspiracy to bar the trust of the vaudeville productions from independent theaters. Opposing counsel denied these charges and declared that inasmuch as the contract provided for Sunday performances it was void.

CRIPPLED LINER LOCATED. America's Machinery Breaks Down and She Is Towed in from Azores Islands.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) NEW YORK, July 4.—The Fabre line steamer America, which sailed from Marseilles June 3, via St. Michaels, Azores, June 11, for New York, and for whose safety considerable anxiety has been felt, as she was twelve days overdue, was reported as arriving at Bermuda today in tow of a steamer leaving Bermuda for this port.

The America was picked up June 1 at a short distance off the Azores Islands in a disabled condition by the Dinnamare.

All of her 110 passengers and crew were in good health. At the office of the Fabre line in this city it was said that the America's passengers would be brought to New York on the first steamer leaving Bermuda for this port.

ROJESTVENSKY PLEADS GUILTY. RUSSIAN ADMIRAL TRIES TO SAVE HIS STAFF.

Asks for Full Penalty, Which Is Death, for Surrendering Gunboat to Japanese, Believing His Officers Gave Vessel Up to Save Him After He Was Wounded.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) KRONSTADT, July 4.—In a manly effort to save the surviving members of his staff and the other officers who, he believed, surrendered the gunboat Bedovi, on condition that they be spared, Admiral Rojestvensky today pleaded guilty before a court-martial.

In a short speech to the court the Admiral declared that he took all the blame on his own shoulders and asked that he alone be punished to the full extent of the law, virtually an appeal for condemnation to death, which is the penalty for hauling down the flag.

All the other defendants, including Captain Decolouge, chief of Admiral Rojestvensky's staff, and Captain Baranoff, chief of staff of the Bedovi, pleaded not guilty.

The little courtroom in the marine headquarters was packed with a small audience, most of whom are connected with the navy. Among the spectators in the first row were the widow of Vice-Admiral Makarov, who lost his life on board his flagship at Port Arthur in April, 1904, when the vessel was sunk by a Japanese mine. Admiral Rojestvensky appeared to have quite recovered from the wounds he received in the battle of the sea of Japan.

After he had entered his plea the taking of testimony began. Members of the crew of the Bedovi were examined to determine who ordered the surrender, the condition of the vessel and the incidents of the capture. The taking of testimony will occupy several days.

AMERICA'S HOT TIME.

In the gallery, and cheered and drank her health.

Following the passage between Ambassador Reid and Bryan, the latter read a formal speech.

BRYAN'S ADDRESS.

The subject of Bryan's address was "The White Man's Burden," and he said in part:

"The memory of the evening spent with the American Society, Thanksgiving Day, two and a half years ago, is such a pleasant one that I esteem myself fortunate to be able to accept the invitation so kindly extended by our distinguished ambassador, Hon. William L. Dyer, to be your guest on this occasion.

"My English friends, under whose flag we meet tonight, recalling that this is the anniversary of our nation's birth, would doubtless pardon as if our rejoicing contained something of self-congratulation, for it is at such times as this that we are wont to review those national achievements which have given to the United States its prominence among the nations.

"But I hope I shall not be thought lacking in patriotic spirit if, instead of drawing a picture of the past, bright with heroic deeds and unparalleled in progress, I summon you rather to a serious consideration of the responsibility resting upon those nations which aspire to universal peace. Bryan then quoted a stanza of Kipling's verses on "The White Man's Burden," and launched into his address on the subject, declaring that among the blessings which the Christian nations are at this time able, and in duty bound, to bestow upon the rest of the world, he would mention five: education, knowledge of the science of government, the substitution of a substitute for war, appreciation of the dignity of labor and a high conception of life. He said:

"Education comes first, and in nothing have the United States and England been more clearly helpful than in the advocacy of universal education. If the designs of God are disclosed by His handiwork, then the creation of the human mind is inimitable proof that the human mind is never intended that learning should be monopolized by a few, and he arrays himself against the plans of Jehovah, who would deny intellectual training to any part of the human race.

"It is a false civilization, not a true one, that counts the permanent separation of society into two distinct classes, the one encouraged to improve the mind and the other condemned to hopeless ignorance. Equally false is that conception of international politics which would make the prosperity of one nation depend upon the exploitation of another."

APPROVAL OF ASIATICS.

Continuing, Bryan said:

"No one questions that Japan's influence has been a beneficent one, since she has emerged from utter darkness and endowed her people with public schools open to all her boys and girls. The transition from a position of obscurity into a world power was scarcely more rapid than her transition from a menace into an ally.

"China is entering a similar experience, and I am confident that her era of reform will make her not a 'yellow peril,' but a powerful collaborator in the international vineyard."

"In India, in the Philippines, in Egypt, and even in Turkey, statistics show a gradual extension of education, and I trust I will be pardoned if I say that neither the armies nor the navies, nor yet the commerce of our nations, have given us just cause for the gratitude of the people of Asia as have our school teachers, sent many of them, by private rather than by public funds."

APPROVES THE PRESIDENT.

Concerning the benefits of arbitration, Bryan went on to say:

"Our country has reason to congratulate itself upon the success of President Roosevelt in hastening peace between Russia and Japan. Through him our nation won a moral victory more glorious than a victory in war. King Edward has also shown himself a promoter of arbitration, and a large number of members of Parliament are enlisted in the same work. It means much that the two great English-speaking nations are thus arrayed on the side of peace."

RECOGNITION OF LABOR.

In appealing "for a clearer recognition of the dignity of labor," Bryan said: "The odium which rests upon the work of the hand has exerted a baneful influence in our nation. The theory that idleness is more honorable than toil—that it is more respectable to consume what others have produced than to be a producer of wealth—has not only robbed society of an enormous sum, but it has created an almost impassable gulf between the leisure classes and those who support them. Tolstoy is right in asserting that most of the perplexing problems of society grow out of the lack of sympathy between man and man. Because some imagine themselves above work while others are before them, there is a constant warring and much of bitterness. When men and women become ashamed of doing nothing and strive to give to society full compensation for all they receive from society, there will be harmony between the classes."

BROADENS HIS VIEWS.

Bryan closed his remarks as follows:

"While in America and in Europe there is much to be corrected, and abundant room for improvement, there has never been so much altruism in the world as there is today—never so many who acknowledge the indissoluble tie that binds each to every other member of the race. I have felt more pride in my own countrymen than ever before. As I have visited the circuit of schools, hospitals and churches which American money has built around the world, the simple of the Christian nations though but feebly reflecting the light of the Master, is gradually reforming society."

KILLED BY COMPANION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

OSWEGO (N. Y.) July 4.—Murray Kitts, 13 years old, was accidentally shot and killed at Fulton, last night, by Frederick Parker, a companion about the same age. The boys were planning for the Fourth of July. Parker discharged what he supposed to be a blank cartridge from a revolver. Kitts fell with a bullet in his head, and died almost immediately. Parker disappeared. He is a member of a prominent family, as was Kitts. The reading of the speech proved a disappointment to the crowd, which wanted oratory unhampered by manuscript.

WERE SUN SPOTS.

John L. Griffiths, the American Consul-General at Liverpool, answered for the guests, and won applause when he compared the sun spots and the political scandals of the United States to spots on the sun, and paid his respects to those persons who could see the spots, but not the sun.

GUESTS AND DECORATIONS.

The American and British flags were draped on the walls of the dining-room and the orchestra played a programme of American melodies. The guests included Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema, Paul Morton of New York, Franklin MacVeagh of Chicago, Consul-General Wayne, Isaac Seligman of New York, Representative Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, George Harvey of New York, H. S. Max and Admiral Kirk. During the dinner Ambassador Reid read a letter from Queen Alexandra expressing the keenest sorrow over the Salisbury railway disaster and tendering her heartfelt sympathy to all concerned, "especially the young bride so suddenly bereaved," meaning Mrs. Frederick H. Cassatt of New York.

BRYAN ON SOCIALISM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, July 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) William J. Bryan, in an interview here today, said that he did not believe that cooperative socialism would succeed in America. Bryan said: "I do not think government control of the means of production and distribution would result favorably, nor could it successfully be brought about in a country as free as America."

"I distinguish between socialism, meaning government control of production and distribution and municipal socialism, I believe in public ownership of natural monopolies, but do not think this is really socialism."

"I also believe that the telegraph business should be taken over by the Federal government and put under control of the Postoffice Department. Railways also should be publicized, and the trunk lines by the Federal government, and the small lines by the individual States."

CHICAGO'S NOISY TIME.

POLICE TURN GAMING LOOSE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CHICAGO, July 4.—The cannon cracker and its power relations began the celebration of the Fourth of July at an early hour last night. In all sections of the city, especially in the downtown districts, the rattle of "artillery" was incessant with little or no check upon it by the police.

A large number of the cannon-cracker seals in the downtown district matched their enthusiasm against the science of government, and shot their powder magazines under the wheels of the big cars which whizzed along the boulevards in disregard of the law.

DIES OF LOCKJAW.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ELKHART (Ind.) July 4.—Ray Bowling, aged 12 years, died today from lockjaw, resulting from a wound caused by the explosion of a blank cartridge. Frank Beach lost an eye on account of a giant firecracker.

HONORARY UNION JACK.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 4.—Miss Annie Tompsett today hoisted the Union Jack over her cottage. She came recently from Canada and did not understand the full meaning of the Fourth of July celebration. A large crowd gathered and were threatening to haul down the flag when the matter was reported to the police and Miss Tompsett was compelled to haul down the flag.

FOUR KILLED IN INDIANA.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—Reports from throughout the State tonight show four fatalities and a large number of persons injured as the result of today's celebration of the Fourth.

WISCONSIN FATALITIES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) July 4.—Three deaths were recorded in Wisconsin as a result of the celebration of the Fourth today.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, July 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Asserting that William J. Bryan will lead the Democratic party to victory in 1936, that Representative Cockran, who will be his running mate and that Alton B. Parker will be the next Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas today broke a storm of applause from the 200 Tammany men who gathered in the Fourteenth-street wigwam to celebrate the Fourth. It was regarded as significant that Mayor McClellan was not even referred to by any of the speakers.

In delivering the principal address of the occasion, Representative John A. Sullivan of Massachusetts scored the influences which are spreading socialist sentiment, and sounded a note of warning against the movement. A bitter foe of William J. Bryan, whom he engaged two years ago in a political controversy, Sullivan's blow at socialism was interpreted as an attack on Bryan.

"A few days ago the Republican majority in both branches of Congress forced upon the country a law compelling the Canal Company to purchase its supplies from American manufacturers whenever the prices of foreign letters were not unreasonable or extortionate."

"Within a week after the time that law was passed, the president's signature, the Maryland State Company was awarded a contract for two dredges at $262,000 each. The foreign concern that built them for $70,000 less, over 10 per cent. At that rate, $10,000,000 worth of supplies, which will be purchased next year, American goods will cost the government $10,000,000, which, according to the majority in Congress, will not be extortionate or unreasonable."

"The sale of American products in the canal zone next year will represent one million dollars of plunder. The sale of American manufactures to the people of the United States next year will surely be sixteen thousand millions, and will, therefore, at the same rate, represent sixteen hundred millions of plunder."

In his address of welcome, Congressman Cockran, among other things, said:

"We hear that Democracy is no longer needful in this country. We are told that the government must now interfere in all matters. It is a proposal that Socialism is to be substituted for Democracy."

"In the insurance frauds we find the rascals holding a stronger grip on their ill-gotten gains. Moreover, when a larceny of $50,000 is admitted, we find the rascals of the law not pursuing, but protecting, and the whole country stands against the spectacle."

Congressman Robert L. Henry of Texas, who delivered one of the "long talks" of the celebration, nominated Bryan for president, and nominated Charles A. Towne as President and Vice-President, respectively, on the next Presidential ticket. The nomination met with approval, the assembly applauding with hands and feet.

"If I should remove my residence from Texas to New York," said Mr. Henry, "the first act of mine would be to become a member of Tammany. When Texas was knocking at the door of Statehood, Tammany raised her voice in favor and we came in. Today, Texas has more than 2,000,000 people and most of them are Democrats."

"The tariff and the trusts must be the great overshadowing issue of the next campaign and if you are true to your trust you will see a Democratic administration. When we meet Tammany at the national convention, Texas will be there upholding the banner of the greatest Democrat who has ever lived since Jefferson, William J. Bryan, and then Texas will assist in his running mate Charles A. Towne.

"Such a ticket will sweep the country. Your most representative citizen and brilliant jurist, Alton B. Parker, shall be the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court."

MOTOR BOATS IN FIRST SPIN.

BIG CROWD SEES RACES ON BAY AT NAPLES.

Speedy Peerless Too Heavily Handicapped and Comes in Second to the Marthas. While the Channel Club's Nettie Was Third—Initial Contest on the Coast.

The first motor-boat racing seen on the Pacific Coast, coupled with a joyous celebration of Independence Day, were the features that attracted an immense throng to Naples yesterday. The magnificent still-water boating facilities and the unusual interest that has sprung up among Angelenos in the ownership of fast motor-boats made for a great showing in the racing.

The first event was a handicap in which twenty boats were entered. The entries ranged from the swift Peerless, owned by Robert Marshall and John Howze, down to an insignificant little dory with a piece of stove-pipe for an exhaust.

The race was for three handsome silver loving cups that had been donated jointly by the Naples Company, the West Naples Company and the Alameda Land Company.

No better stretch of water for motor boating can be found on the Pacific Coast than that at Naples and yesterday the water was the scene of the history of the new locality, sounded a clarion trumpet note that presaged famous races between speedy motor boats.

In the preliminary race the boats at 3 o'clock, there were twenty entries. The course was four miles in length or two laps on the regulation course in the bay.

The Bay Queen, owned by Messrs. Marshall and Strong, and the speedy Peerless, were the boats most feared, and they were handicapped a little less than half an hour. It was between these two boats that the exciting finish came.

The handicap was too heavy for the Peerless, and the Marthas, owned by Mr. Strong, of Strong and Dickinson, which had fully twenty minutes handicap, passed the starters in the lead by not one minute. The Peerless was a close second, and had passed eighteen motor boats in the four-mile course. The Nettie, owned by the Channel Club, was third. The best time over the four-mile course was made by the Peerless when it passed the starters exactly twenty-two minutes after the start. The nearest approach to this excellent time was made by the Marthas, which went the distance in thirty-eight minutes.

The boats entered in this race were the San Gabriel, owned by John W. Wright; Milled, by Mr. Strong; Marthas, Mr. Dickinson; Nettie, Channel Club; Neapolitan, L. Lesperance; Rocket, C. C. Parsons; Yukon, L. B. Boy; Paine; West Naples, West Naples Co.; Belmont, Frank Shaw; Olivia, L. Lesperance; Oklahama, C. H. Jennings; Rose K., C. H. Coplin; Evelyn, Mr. Gilmore; Arrow, Mr. Welsh; Gladra, Naples Club; Primo, H. B. Woodill; Napoli, Naples Company; Bay Queen, Marshall and Strong; Peerless, Robert Marshall, and John Howze.

Well-known matrons and young ladies of Los Angeles, whose husbands, brothers, or friends handled the tillers on the motor boats, occupied seats in the motor-boat race was liberally distributed with a water spray. Their enthusiasm, however, never failed and the more salt water that poured over them during the race, the more they seemed to grow their cheers and efforts to urge on their boats in the race.

Following the big race the much-mooted question as to the faster of the two motor boats, Napoli and Gladra, came up, and a race was on the cards. These two boats are almost duplicates of each other, and the race was a fair one.

A race was held and Mr. Parsons held the tiller of the winning Gladra, while the Peerless was a close second. The race was a fair one, and the boats were almost duplicates of each other.

A magnificent display of fireworks had been arranged and on the opposite side of the beautiful stretch of water a great flat had been anchored. From this vantage point thousands of dollars' worth of fireworks were sent into the heavens in the evening. Along the bay there was a constant illumination that made the quality beautiful waterways and inland take on the appearance of a fairy scene.

The attendance in the morning was slight, but after lunch hour the crowds poured in from the surrounding beach resorts to see the racing and the fireworks.

The judges of the racing were Robert Marshall, W. R. Strong, and A. M. Parsons, and A. C. Parsons, starter.

Reports that yellow fever has appeared in Cuba were made public in New Orleans Wednesday by the State Board of Health.

WELL POSTED

A California Doctor with 40 Years Experience

"In my 40 years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people. I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use."

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee when giving my patients instructions as to diet for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by any one."

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work, I eat Grape-Nuts twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order."

"In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am at most certain to have trouble with my stomach."

"Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape-Nuts the most scientific food in the world.

MOTORCYCLISTS TOSSED BY CAR.

ONE OF PAIR RIDING TANDEM MAY DIE OF HURTS.

Henry Macgregor and H. Volk Speed Onto Track in Path of Approaching Trolley and Are Thrown Many Feet—Both Are Unconscious When Picked Up.

As a result of a collision between the motorcycle which they were riding and a Pasadena car two young men, Henry Macgregor and H. Volk, are at the County Hospital, seriously injured.

Macgregor was thrown against the curb at the side of the street with such force that he sustained a fractured clavicle, a broken arm and a scalp laceration, besides serious internal injuries. Volk was thrown overboard and landed on his head. He sustained a fractured clavicle and a scalp wound. Though he was thrown many feet farther than Macgregor he escaped with lighter injuries.

Both men were unconscious when picked up, and a passing expressman, who was driving a car, stopped and tried to take them to the County Hospital in his wagon. They were operated upon as soon as they reached that institution. The surgeons found Macgregor's injuries so serious that they fear he may not live. Volk's injuries, however, though severe, are not considered fatal.

Witnesses of the accident state that the two men on the motorcycle were riding very fast, at a rate of speed which was unusual for the time of day. They took a long chance when they attempted to cross Daly street ahead of the car instead of slowing down and waiting for it to pass. It was estimated that the car was not running at a very high rate of speed but the motorcycle appeared to suddenly and unexpectedly that the motorman had no time in which to stop.

"QUAKER" IN AGAIN.

"Doctor" Held on Insanity Charge Tells How Easily the Gullible Public Buys "Medicine."

Edwin Davis, "Quaker doctor," is again confined at the County Hospital on an insanity charge. Only two days ago he was allowed to free from Judge Gibbs and the insanity commission, on condition that a nurse from the hospital accompany him. His friends were perfectly willing to have a trained nurse, but upon reaching the home place Davis refused the "Quaker doctor" stood the nurse on his head, and otherwise playfully dilled with him. The man was arrested on his own admission, and Davis was again arrested.

At the time of his examination Davis gave a brief account of his varied medical career. He started in life as a theatrical rascal, as a comedienne, and then graduated as a country-side "doctor" and attended fairs and other old-time forms of entertainment where he sold his "Quaker" medicine. He said that he had been a "Quaker doctor" for many years, and that he had a "secret" which he would not disclose to anyone. He said that he had a "secret" which he would not disclose to anyone.

You cannot find a better investment in this town today than the N.W. corner of Figueroa and Cherry, 152x125; just two feet west of Figueroa. Improvements have more than on Pico, where property as high. We are agents for what we are both streets, and know what we can develop. For a short time we can develop this corner for $25 per foot under value. You cannot make a mistake investing in this section, even at casualty, because there is no better outside area in Washington, extending through the to Santa Monica, and when its increasing capacity becomes generally known you will see a great enhancement in value.

DRY GOODS
SPRING AND THIRD STS.

July Specials

This is clearance month with us. Fall and winter goods will be knocking for admission before long and we are making preparations to receive them. Everything in the house is being re-priced—and re-priced in a way that plainly shows we mean business. Here's just a hint of today's doings.

Cloth Suits 40 Per Cent. Off

All our colored and black tailored suits, embracing Fashion's newest and best models, every color and style one could ask for. Exons, pony jackets and box coat suits.

$19.50 Suits for $11.70.	$22.50 Suits for $13.50.
$25.00 Suits for $15.00.	$27.50 Suits for $16.50.

CECILIAN

THE PERFECT PIANO PLAYER

The greatest of all Piano Players. No other piano-playing device is so sensitive in response to the HUMAN thought and touch. This is not a mere "claim."

The entire control of the expression is under two fingers of the left hand of the player—the Phrasing Buttons. These give to the player the same control of the CECILIAN that the electrical wiring gives to the commander of a modern battleship— instantaneous response to the slightest touch. The CECILIAN is the greatest boon that mechanics ever gave to lovers of music who lack the knowledge and skill to play. You are a pianist for your own enjoyment, and the entertainment of your friends, as soon as you possess a CECILIAN—and possession is made easy by liberal terms. PRICE, $275.

LED TO WED BY TRICKERY.

Wife Says Woer and Doctor Worked a Dodge.

Communication With Friends Cut by Bald Ruse.

Mrs. Smelley Gives Up Mate but Wants Her Gems.

Mrs. Carrie C. Smelley has lost her husband and some of her diamonds. It is the loss of the glimmering gems that is causing her most disquiet. Under romantic circumstances she married in this city recently, but before the honeymoon had reached its zenith she was willing to lose her husband. Matrimony with her was only about eight or nine days old, when the "rift in the lute" appeared and now husband and wife are talking only through their attorneys.

Before her marriage Mrs. Smelley was a Miss Carrie C. Rodgers and belonged to a well-to-do family in Pennsylvania. She came to Southern California for her health in the late fall of last year, for both her father and mother had died of the white plague and her friends were anxious that she should use every precaution.

Early in January Miss Rodgers was introduced to J. Frank Smelley, who appeared to be, from the first, attracted to the eastern girl. In the light of later events it is assumed that his interest was not altogether disinterested, for Miss Rodgers had frankly told him much of her simple history and her reason for coming to Los Angeles.

Smelley was very attentive to the girl—she was only 23, and of a delicate type of beauty. In a remarkably short space of time—a mere matter of days—he proposed marriage. Miss Rodgers was taken by surprise. She had found one whom she thought might be a friend—not a Platonic standpoint, of course, and here he had spoiled it all. She refused the offer, and, presumably, the usual words of "alister" affection, and so forth were used to let Smelley down easy.

PERSISTENT WOER. But it is claimed that young Smelley was not only not willing to be turned down by the eastern girl, but that he was willing to descend to any form of despicable trickery in order to make her his wife. For she had money and enjoys a comfortable income.

Under the guise of a continued interest in her welfare Smelley persuaded Miss Rodgers to visit a physician who would aid her in a return to health. Now, it is claimed the persistent woer and the medical practitioner had entered into a conspiracy, by which circumstances were to be so moulded that Miss Rodgers would feel compelled and impelled to accept of Smelley, and consent to marry him.

In pursuance of this plan the doctor advised the girl that she must make up her mind to return to her home in Southern California, and that for her to think of returning East would be the height of folly.

Simultaneously with this advice Smelley began pressing his suit again, assuring the lonely girl—made again, as he put it, by the physician that she must make up her mind to return to her home and her friends in the East—that he was simply able to support her, and would surround her with all that love and affection could dictate.

Smelley's protestations seemed sincere, and under the stressful conditions Miss Rodgers felt the impulse to yield to his solicitations. But without either accepting or refusing these later proposals of marriage, the girl said she would write East to her friends, and ask their advice.

Letters were sent East, but there were no answers. The Miss Rodgers wrote again and still no replies were received. She became anxious and telegraphed, still no replies. Girl-like, she then became indignant, and hastily made up her mind that she would be the arbiter of her own fate, and on January 29, she was united in marriage to Smelley.

DISILLUSIONMENT COMES. With her marriage, disillusionment followed. She claims to have discovered that the advice of the physician was given as the result of an understanding with her husband; that Smelley had intercepted her letters and telegrams to the East.

The first thing required by this new husband was that his wife back him in his enterprises. She gave him large sums, she avers, and he in return did not even support her. When she uncovered the trick that had been perpetrated upon her, Mrs. Smelley announced her intention of returning East. But hubby would not consent—unless, the wife would share with him the money to make it worth his while. She says he even threatened physical violence.

With all her ready funds exhausted, and feeling distressed and disconsolate, Mrs. Smelley made a bargain with her husband. It was necessary for business reasons that she return to her home in Pennsylvania, and Smelley agreed to finance her trip on terms, as soon as she reached her home she would remit to him $150, and as a guarantee she would leave with him three diamond rings, which he promised to return to her as soon as he received the cash payment.

On February 9—just twelve days after the marriage—the curtain came down on the married life of Mrs. Smelley. Merely as a prelude to a final separation the young wife has brought suit in the Superior Court to recover the three diamonds. So far the husband has made no answer.

DEATH IS SUDDEN.

Chino Physician, Well-Known and Beloved, Is Stricken With Heart Disease.

Dr. T. D. Kellogg of Chino died yesterday morning of heart disease. His health had been failing for some time, but the end came quite suddenly while he was surrounded by several members of his family. He was 60 years of age and was one of the best known physicians in the Chino Valley, where he had a large practice. He was also well known to the medical fraternity in Los Angeles.

For nearly ten years Dr. Kellogg had resided with his family in Chino, where he was known for his generosity and his great love for his patients. He was a married man, Mrs. C. Kellogg, resides in Chino. He has three sons, Cleaver and Jack, are in Los Angeles, and Walter is in Rocky Ford, Colo.

BULLET TEARS WOMAN'S HAND.

PATRON AT CHUTES IS TARGET FOR UGLY MISSILE.

Ripping Hole Through Four-Inch Pole It Shatters Bone of One Finger and Is Imbedded in Wrist—Gritty Victim, Without an Anesthetic, Watches Surgeon Extract It.

Her hand struck and a bone shattered by an immense bullet fired from an inch and a half long and apparently a handsome young woman of 27 years, neither awoken nor became hysterical last night at the Chutes. A few minutes later she calmly switched a napkin to the ugly missile, taking no anesthetic to relieve the pain.

It was only a seeming miracle that Miss Patterson was not killed. A slight deflection of the bullet in any direction and it would have reached a vital spot that would have meant death, for the leaden messenger was an inch and a half long and apparently had been fired from a 40.45 Winchester rifle in the hands of some person whose aim was not very accurate. With her sister and mother and a young man who acted as escort, Miss Patterson, who came recently from Kansas, was staying at the Chutes, 308 South Flower street west to the evening entertainment at the Chutes. The party coupled seats in the big amphitheater and had passed a merry evening up to the time the bullet without warning crashed into her hand and brought an end to the party.

Miss Patterson had opened a hand satchel that she held in her lap and was taking from it a small mirror when the bullet struck her hand, plunging into the back of the hand at the lower joint of the second finger. The bullet was so large that it shattered the bone and causing an ugly wound.

Horror-stricken, and thinking she was dangerously hurt in a way that she could not explain, the companions of the young woman, together with others, rushed to her aid, sprang to her assistance, only to find her as helpless as a child. She was simply held by the hand of a young man who acted as her escort, while the other members of the party had become worked up to a pitch of high nervous tension over the misfortune that had overtaken the young woman. Every effort was made to escape publicity of the accident.

When the wound had been dressed, Miss Patterson was taken to her home. It was said that the lady, while painful, was not necessarily serious and that the hand would not be badly damaged. Coming from so powerful a gun, the cartridge may have been discharged half a mile away. The police got busy in an effort to apprehend the reckless shooter.

HUSBAND'S SHOTS KILL.

Mrs. Beggs Dies from the Wounds Inflicted by Him Six Weeks Ago.

Mrs. R. C. Beggs of No. 1011 Diamond street died last night at the County Hospital as the result of four revolver shots in the head, inflicted by her husband, who was shot and killed in the same way. Mrs. Beggs, for weeks and surviving for a time, was operated on by a surgeon, but the wound was not healed. She was taken to the hospital, where she died last night.

NEGRO'S HAND WOUNDED.

Frank Croon, a negro residing at No. 111 East Bloom street, sustained a painful injury to his right hand last evening while standing near a box containing five pounds of powder, at the home of a friend near Main and Soledad streets.

Croon says that he did not know that the powder was so near him. He believes that someone threw a cigar into the box and thereby produced the explosion. Police Surgeons Quint and Bonnyne attended Croon.

TAKING HOLD OF OUTFALL.

Mayor Now Trying to Help Undo Big Bungle.

Going With Public Works Men to Inspect.

Shall the City Complete It and Penalize?

The Mayor has decided to take a trip to the Goodwins knot, to make the tangled skein of outfall sewer troubles. Warned by The Times that work on the tunnel section is at a standstill, and that the contractors and Board of Public Works are laboring apparently at cross purposes, Mr. McAlister concluded to make a personal survey of the situation, and he has asked the board and the contractors to go with him on the trip.

The Mayor has been waiting for several days for the members of the board to set to work on the inspection. The trip will be made one day this week. Last month the time limit named in the contract for completing the outfall expired. The tunnel has been driven less than 500 feet in the wet section under the Ingleswood hills, about 800 feet remain to be completed. The contractors have expressed the opinion that the pump has never been invented that will take care of the unexpected head of water in the tunnel; but they have said they will get whatever kind of pumps the board suggests. They hold that it will be necessary to use a shield to drive the big bore, and that will probably make a legal fight on the contention that the city cannot compel them to use such apparatus.

Members of the Board of Public Works hold that the contractors knew the water was there when they bid on the outfall; that they have taken the contract and that they must drive the tunnel. They say that the city is not interested in the kind of apparatus used, but that we do want the sewer. About the want and need of the outfall there can be no question.

A month ago the board notified the contractors in an official communication that they should get more pumps. This the contractors are doing, but they are taking their time about it. Indications are that the pumps will not be in before the rainy season sets in.

SHALL CITY DO IT?

The Mayor is of the opinion that the contractors should give some evidence of their inability to drive the tunnel or the city should do the work and charge the expense to the contractors. They have given a $100,000 surety bond to guarantee the completion of the work, and the city has paid back about $100,000 on the work already completed.

A number of plans for driving the tunnel have been suggested; any of them might come in handy in case of inactivity. Little by little those in authority are coming to the conviction that a serious blunder was made when the tunnel was started in the level through the Ingleswood hills; just twelve feet higher and the heavy head of water would have been avoided.

All this is what might have been. Now the Mayor and the City Attorney and the Board of Public Works are in a mood to get together and decide what is best to do under existing circumstances. By October all the sewer work in the city should be completed. But estimates of engineers place the time for finishing that tunnel at three years, provided the most efficient apparatus is used, and three crews are working so that the construction will be going ahead day and night.

The city must now pay the penalty for delaying until the early days of the outfall with the independent brick-makers. Work on the tunnel was delayed for months while the contractors were waiting for brick; during this time the city was temporizing with the political brick man.

When bonds were voted for the outfall the engineers in charge asserted that the sewer would be completed by the summer of 1906, possibly by the fall of 1906. The summer of '06 is here and the estimates now made for completing the tunnel are for a longer time than the original estimate for the whole outfall.

COUNCIL MAY TAKE HAND.

If the Mayor, the Board of Public Works and the contractors fail to arrive at some definite conclusion this week for completing the tunnel, the Council will probably take a hand by instituting a commission of experts to be appointed to report on the quickest and most feasible way to complete the sewer. Sanitary conditions are such that the people are not in a mood to see the summer and fall frittered away with nothing but sewer troubles.

SUSIE LEAVES BRUNS "SHY."

LOS ANGELES MAN HAS WOE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of Local Glass Factory That Burned Entrusts Part of Insurance Money to Woman and She Disappears, but Is Now Under Arrest in Kentucky.

According to dispatches from New Orleans received last night by The Times, Edward Bruns, formerly proprietor of a leaded glass works at No. 323 Santee street, is mourning the loss of a part of the insurance collected after the plant burned, more than two months ago, and a woman is under arrest charged with making away with the money.

The building in which Bruns carried on his business was destroyed by fire. Bruns valued the stock at $10,000 and collected nearly half that amount of insurance. A few days after securing the money he became acquainted with a young woman in this city, said to be a brass widow, whose maiden name is in Louisville, Ky.

The Los Angeles man, it appears, became greatly enamored of the comely female, who consented to be his traveling companion on a trip through Mexico. No marriage ceremony is spoken of, though the two left Los Angeles more than six weeks ago. About a week ago they arrived in New Orleans, and the troubles of Bruns commenced.

He stated to friends that he intended to go into business in New Orleans, and showed his confidence in his woman companion by entrusting to her care $2400 of the money he hoped to invest, and which she carried in a bag. In New Orleans she was known to some as Mrs. Susie Bruns.

Recently Bruns began to be suspicious, and demanded his money. On Saturday the woman said she was going to a drug store, and never returned. Bruns informed the police, but grew tired of waiting for results, and told the story of his simple trust, concluding "and I did love her."

Before she disappeared Bruns is said to have secured $2400 of the money. She left a message saying she was coming to Los Angeles, but Bruns, believing she has two male companions, at once concluded she had gone to her home in Louisville.

Advices from Louisville state that a woman giving the name of Susie Gilbert has been arrested there on an order from the Chief of Police of New Orleans charging her with having stolen $2600 from Edward Bruns of Los Angeles.

TEARS FLOW AT SCHOOL.

Sad Scene Follows Request of Parent for the Body of the Boy That Died.

Tears flowed from the faces of teachers and pupils of the Temple-street school when the father called to get the body of his son, who was killed by a shot from a police officer on Main street.

No order for a funeral was given, could stop Fourth-of-July fires, however. The engines were tearing around town all night. The piteous-out fire charmed young men, who were rightfully celebrated with a big 212-shooter on Main street.

There being no parade beyond the required assembling of the National Guard companies, the streets were almost deserted except for the matinee crowds, whom the theaters disgorged by hundreds—an avalanche of fine-looking women in coats with gunnys very pleasant and patriotic recollection.

FOURTH "SANE" FOR BIG CITY.

Billion Postal Cards Cause Greatest Excitement.

People Flock to the Ocean and to Cool Parks.

Small Boys and Fire Horses Get Busy at Home.

All the features of a jolly old-fashioned Fourth were with us yesterday; but there was one new feature which shows in how lady-like a manner even a bloody war for independence can be commemorated.

In their deep emotion over the past performances of Gen. George Washington, some Los Angeles people of refinement and culture discovered a new and perfectly desperate way of celebrating.

They did it yesterday; they sent—wouldn't it jar you—souvernir Fourth-of-July postal cards.

There were fire crackers—crackers that cracked one's ear drums; about forty different picnics at which one ate olives and things—crackers, and music by brass bands; but this postal card sending was the fiercest part of the celebration.

Some of the postals were billows—colored representations of Gen. Washington dodging red-hot scarlet chunks of ice in the Delaware River; another favorite one calculated to just make you sit up and shout was of the Battle of Bunker Hill in which a band of British in red coats glared at Americans.

They stood with guns poised and both sides looked real angry at each other. No one was shooting from the guns but they looked as if they might be intending to if anybody got too fresh around there.

If the shade of George Washington can still see, the sight of those postal cards would startle him worse than the British ever did.

CITY'S "SANE" FOURTH.

Otherwise it was probably the "sane" Fourth the city ever lived through.

It is no sign one isn't much obliged to Gen. Washington that you don't stand around the hot city streets for hours in the pelting sun, dodging cannon service in tickle to accomplish a coming of a blousy Goddess of Liberty with a sun-burned nose, mounted on a very teary throne in a four-horse truck.

You can be quite as kind and make faces at the memory of George III, with as good grace by going to a cool beach and paddling round in the surf. The Chief of Police's order, who forbade forbidden blank cartridge and the cannon cracker was rigidly enforced, even to the point of arresting a very charming young woman who was rightfully celebrated with a big 212-shooter on Main street.

No order for a funeral was given, could stop Fourth-of-July fires, however. The engines were tearing around town all night. The piteous-out fire charmed young men, who were rightfully celebrated with a big 212-shooter on Main street.

OUTSIDE FOR REAL THING.

To get the real thing in Fourth of July, one must go to the country towns, where the "well-known and popular town marshal" delivers a grand oration he found in a "ready speaker" and the ladies of the First Methodist Church, under the leadership of all comers at the modest sum of 25 cents, and do not speak to one another for weeks afterward; where the G.A.R. turns out in the shape of a St. Andrews did very well. There are still many boys left with all their fingers and arms; and there are more who had a jolly good time to remember. Fourth as a red-letter day in their calendars.

Every beach-going car was loaded to suffocation, for most of the celebrating took place near the breakers. The detailed accounts of these celebrations are given elsewhere in this paper.

All that took place of a public nature in the city were picnics at nearly all the parks; at some two or three were in full blast at once.

Sports, baseball, a bloody prize fight, golf, races, were happening all over the city. There were plenty of band concerts in the evening, but no public fireworks except at the beaches.

GOSSIP OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.
LONDON, June 19.—Next Monday night, George Edwards makes his long-promised revival of "The Geisha" at the Lyceum, and the bright particular of this production will be May de Souza, the sprightly Chicago girl, who came over here last winter to play at the Lyceum, and who made an uncommonly big hit there.

She was then promptly engaged for an important part, that of the heroine in Cosmo Hamilton's "Castles in the Air," and so it seemed safe to say that she would not be allowed to go home in a hurry, but would be added to the long list of comedienne girls, beginning with Edna May and including Billie Burke, Pauline Chase, Midge Lanning and Marie Jones, whom London has borrowed from the United States temporarily, and then forever to return.

However, Miss de Souza must be credited with a "score" such perhaps as none of her predecessors has had for her part of Mollie Seamore in "The Geisha." George Edwards has arranged with her to star in "The Merry Widow," his coming production at the Prince of Wales. And these latter are the most important of the productions which will be made by the genius of London musical comedy next season. It is quite evident that the opinion he holds of the American girl's capabilities.

It is a queer thing about the management of these two pieces that "The Geisha" are going to come to the Lyceum together. Miss de Souza has been appearing in one of them and get accustomed to her part in "The Merry Widow" at the Lyceum, and thus London will have a comparatively short time, in no less than two completely different roles and two completely different parts, "The Merry Widow" begins next week. "Aladdin" is due at the Gaiety toward the end of the month, and "The Merry Widow" at the Lyceum on September 1, so that the Chicago girl who acts in all three has not had her fill of starring, and has been changing parts, before she has had her fill of starring, and has been changing parts, before she has had her fill of starring.

Early Closing
Begins Saturday

In past years our patrons have helped us to help our employees to enjoy a Saturday half holiday—by doing their shoe buying earlier in the day.

We ask our friends to give us this support even stronger than ever this year. The majority of business firms throughout the city will follow this same plan—but we stand almost entirely alone in the shoe business.

Our watchword is "progressiveness."

We are ever on the alert to build our business bigger and better, but at the same time we are watchful of our employees—to give them the rest they need, that they in turn may give us their best to help in our business building.

We want everyone in sympathy with the early closing to show it by shopping as early in the week as possible. You will find our employees happy and smiling and ready to give you a cheerful service.

Saturday we close at 12:30, noon.

Annual Midsummer
Sale of Blankets

And this year the saving is more than usual, for since we gave our contracts, six and eight months ago, there has been a sharp advance in prices. If you add 10 to 20 per cent. to the first-quoted prices below, you will know just what their duplicates in our regular stocks, bought since the advance, will cost you. Of course all blankets are fresh and perfect; no bedding taken out of the house over night can be exchanged or returned. Among particularly strong values we quote these, to which we call the especial attention of thrifty housewives and keepers of hotels and apartment houses.

Emb'd Waist Patterns

35 Cents Each

We've a lot of odd Persian lawn shirt waist patterns, with embroidered fronts and cuffs, to sell on Thursday for 35c, though that price doesn't begin to represent the cost to make.

36-inch white linen finish suiting of 15c grade, today 9c a yard.

Galatea suitings, known the U. S. over for wearing qualities and pretty designs, and nearly always sold at 20c, here 15c a yard.

Fancy Silks in colors—not a lot of novelties whose sale has to be forced by low prices, but quiet, neat effects for fancy summer waists or dresses, at fifty cents a yard. In regular stock they'd sell for $1 and $1.25. Some of them in a Broadway window.

A small lot of colored taffetas, 19 inches wide, excellent for linings or drop skirts, 50c a yard. Eight to ten yard length of messalines, peau de cygne and louisines (fashionable, all of them), worth 85c to $1.25, at half price today.

More $6 to $8 White Batiste Lingerie Waists at $2.50 today.

All linen hemstitched and embroidered handkerchiefs, for which we usually get 25c, today 20c each, 6 for $1. A good time to lay in an ample supply.

Four and five-inch messalines and satin taffeta ribbons that you want every day and pay 25c for—Today, 18c a yard

Fine Embroideries. Half Price

A Clearing up sale of our very best grades, before inventory time.

Swiss, mull, batiste and nainsook embroideries of all widths and designs, from quarter to full flounces, with lace inserted, beautifully tucked and hemstitched, some with deep lace edges, others shirred and hemstitched, still others with heavy embroidery and Irish crocheted edges. In many cases we've allovers to match.

Values run from 50c to $9 a yard. And if you want high grade embroideries for any purpose under the sun, now's your chance to buy them, for today the prices are 25c to $4.50 a yard.

As many contestants as there are stars in the flag. That was the record yesterday.

Forty-six independent, democratic-American boys and girls all intent on winning their way in the world. Yesterday they were busy all day celebrating the nation's birth and no scores were turned in except those that came by mail. This morning these forty-six young people will go to work with a will. They have just been in training up to today. As good racers sprint around the track a few times before the judges mount the stand in order to accustom themselves to the speed and the race track, so these future American citizens have been simply trying their speed and getting their muscles in good condition. Now that school is out and the Fourth has been properly and joyously celebrated, they will get down to business in earnest.

The uniformly high record of all the racers this year has been remarkable. With three exceptions, none have started with less than 100 points. Scores in previous years have begun with twenty-five and less.

The boy from Oxnard is "getting there." The Fourth-of-July mail brought in 150 points from him and lifted him away up among the high climbers. He's a winner all right.

Kate Atkinson, the Lordsburg contestant also celebrated the Fourth by sending in 150 points which sent her score soaring. Mansie Kim, the Bakersfield Chinese girl, received a lift from Pasadena yesterday in the way of a subscription that counted her 200 points. Evidently the mission workers as well as the Chinese themselves are awakened to Mansie's interests.

Mildred Beer, the Hollywood contestant, whose portrait appears on this page today, has gone to the beach for a week and taken her subscription book along with her. Mildred is one of four sisters and an attractive quartette they are. Mildred is 12 years old and she wants a scholarship in a musical school where she may get instruction in piano playing. She is a good little student and is in the 7th grade of the East Hollywood school. She lives at the corner of Santa Monica avenue and Roca street. A few subscriptions would help this little girl along wonderfully and Hollywood people might send them right to the office in Mildred's favor if they wish to help their representative along, and she will be credited with them.

PRIZES AT STAKE.
The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice, and so on to the end of the list. From time to time the list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants increases.

CIGAR POOR LIGHTER.
Colored Man Uses One to Set On a Cannon Cracker and Gets Hurt.

J. W. Burton, a negro employed as one of the janitors of The Times, sustained injuries to his face by the premature explosion of a large cannon cracker last evening.

Burton and some friends were standing on the roof of Irving Chapel, No. 20 West avenue, 33, nearly destroyed the little church last evening. Members of the congregation gathered about the building and assisted the fire department by holding the flames in check until the engines arrived.

Bucket brigades were formed and the men and women worked hard to check the flames. The amount of the damage is unknown.

FIRE ATTACKS CHAPEL.
Fire caused by a toy balloon lighting on the roof of Irving Chapel, No. 20 West avenue, 33, nearly destroyed the little church last evening. Members of the congregation gathered about the building and assisted the fire department by holding the flames in check until the engines arrived.

ALLEGES REVOLVER THEFT.
Carson Moore was arrested by detectives yesterday afternoon on the charge of stealing a revolver from G. R. Roach at a saloon near Seventh and Maple avenue early in the day.

From the semi-literate ladies' names, Moore and Miss Sutton, the cause of the Roach was firing of a revolver outside the saloon. He entered the saloon and Moore snatched the gun from his hand. Moore demanded that Roach give him $5 for the return of the gun. Roach refused and applied to the police for Moore's arrest, which occurred later.

TENNIS AT WIMBLEDON.
H. L. Doherty Wins the International Championship and Miss Sutton Captures Women's Doubles.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M. WIMBLEDON (England) July 4.—May Sutton and G. W. Hilliard were beaten in the semi-final of the mixed doubles in the international lawn tennis championship game today by Miss Thompson and A. W. Gore. The scores were 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

H. L. Doherty again won the international championship, defeating F. L. Riscley, 6-4, 6-6, 6-2.

In the semi-literate ladies' doubles, Mrs. Hilliard and May Sutton beat Lounghurst and Miss Thompson, 6-6, 6-2, 6-4.

FOURTH OF JULY

crowded in on the band so the musicians could hardly play, and romped all over the walks. The bells of the city in the shade of the hand were in red and white stripes, and whose waist was the blue field of a flag.

During the afternoon the former Los Angeles City Band, now the Pendo Band, gave a concert, and had a large crowd gathered under the low trees on the south side of the park.

The star event was a race for girls under six years old. The runners were started by a toy pistol in regular professional style, and the two anxious ones were set back a pace for false starts just as if the girls were a cinder track.

Warner's Band after doing a turn in Westlake Park during the forenoon, gave a concert at Hollenbeck Park in the afternoon. A large part of the crowd found seats on the sloping grass in the shade of the hand stand, which was decorated with bunting.

At Westlake the lake divided attractions with the concert and the cool nooks. Here especially the absence of men was noticeable. The benches were almost entirely occupied by women, while the Foresters' band gave their programme. All the boats on the lake were busy during the afternoon, especially the two sailboats, which were in requisition constantly.

Echo Park also claimed a fairly large number of visitors. Many children among them. Band concerts both in the forenoon and afternoon, enlivened the proceedings, and numerous family parties picked out shady nooks for a day's outing.

In Central Park there was music also, but the number of visitors was not large. The crowd was a changing one, the visitors stopping for an hour or so, and then going on their way.

PLAYGROUND FUN.
VETERANS STIR YOUNG BLOOD.

Patriotism was visibly inculcated in the minds of the youngsters at the children's playground at Matco and Violet streets. The Los Angeles Veteran Drum Corps was the attraction, and the old boys certainly did show the youngsters how the army was swept into the fight to the rattle and shriek of the old fife and drum corps.

More than one veteran had his memory stirred, and told his grandchildren how he heard that tune once under less pleasant circumstances.

There were nothing but children on the playground, a whole gallery of them swarming over the ladders and bars, bunches in every swing, and a close-packed circle around the band. Violet, the big band drum was a specially big crowd, and when A. M. Thornburg gave it to the sheepskins with both hands he was more admired than ever.

The instruments used by the veterans were in almost all cases those carried through the Civil War, and they were looked on with reverence; even the big band drum was a specially grand old drum, and when A. M. Thornburg took it away from a Heasman drummer boy in the fight at Saratoga in 1877, when Burgoyne—"Gentlemanly John"—finally surrendered, it has been the Hessian flag on its side still.

the fifters and asked for more. So between each real piece there was an impromptu concert.

"Play somethin'" demanded a kiddie. "All right, sonny," answered the veteran with a smile. So he started up an old tune, softly. Then the next man joined in and the next and the next, and one of the drummers began to tap his drum slightly, just because it was an old tune that he couldn't help keeping time to, and presently half the corps was softly playing. It was like the little snatches of real melody that a singer tosses off half unconsciously while waiting the time for the big song.

There are not wanting those who prefer it to the set effort.

With both impromptu music and the real concert it won't be the fault of the veterans if the kiddies grow up without martial spirit.

Fellowship Celebrates.
Patriotic exercises and a basket picnic combined was the way the Los Angeles Fellowship celebrated the Fourth in a euphoric grove at the end of the Edendale car line yesterday.

There were speeches, music and singing in the morning, and in the afternoon races and a ball game between the married and unmarried Fellowship men.

PERSONAL.
T. H. Keller, a lumber dealer of Seattle, is a guest at the Alexandria Hotel.

T. H. Benton of St. Louis, famed as the champion revolver shooter of the world, is a guest at the Hayward, where he will remain several days.

Col. Knowles Crooksey of Philadelphia, Pa., who is connected with the United States Reclamation Service, is registered at the Van Nuys Hotel. Col. Crooksey has been passing the last few weeks in Arizona.

Gen. A. W. Greely of San Francisco, commander of the Department of the Pacific, spent a few hours yesterday in the city en route to Coronado, where he will pass a month recuperating.

Gen. Greely is accompanied by Mrs. Greely and Capt. F. L. Winn, his aide.

Want to Be Smart.
The craving of the Alaskan Indians for education is almost pitiable, says the Southern Workman. Ask them what they need and the answer is the same:

"Schools for the children, so that they may become smart like the white man."

They are very affectionate people to their children; every benefit is for the child. The older people fully realize the fact that they represent the past. They have always been producers, and their faith in themselves is half of the struggle that lies before them. To this end they should be provided with day schools in all of the villages of a hundred or more adults.

In some sections where the families are distributed over a large area of country and in the case of the children of parents unable to provide for their support, and again where orphans may be enslaved by distant relatives, boarding-schools or homes are equally necessary.

TALK OR TALCUM?

If you are buying talk then buy anything the dealer may choose to say is "just as good."

If you are buying talcum, then MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM is the only preparation which you can buy with satisfaction.

"Talk is cheap," Talcum, however, is not so cheap, because it costs the dealer more and makes his profit less. That's why he'd sooner sell you talk than "talcum" of the Mennen Brand.

Don't be talked out of buying Mennen's Borated Talcum, the only powder which can be used with safety and satisfaction.

Have you tried MENNEN'S TOILET BORATED TALCUM POWDER? It's fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma Violets.

DOWN-EASTERS
AT BIG PICNIC.New England People Enjoy an Old-Time Fourth.Patriotic Words at Reunion at Eastlake Park.Judge Charles Noyes Heard in Eloquent Oration.

With a "feast of reason and flow of soul" New Englanders of Southern California happily celebrated the Fourth at Eastlake Park yesterday. Over one thousand of the sons and daughters of the old home States took part. There was a basket lunch, with Boston baked beans and kindred delicacies; there were speeches and music; an abundance of noise-producing explosives for the youngsters; and in the cool shade of the palms the grown-ups renewed acquaintance and indulged in reminiscences of earlier days in charming old New England. It was the largest celebration of the kind.

It was the first picnic of the newly-organized New England Society of Southern California, the first of a series of social events.

Frank S. Forbes offered the invocation, opening the exercises, and Judge W. M. Noyes, president of the society, delivered a fitting address. Charles Lamb sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Old New England Song." Mrs. Lyons sang "Hurrah for Old New England." Prof. J. B. Clark called to mind the New England school, and Dr. R. P. Clark, of New England home, so that the program was complete. The singing of the hymn "The Old New England Home" was the less marked feature of the day. The grand chorus joining in "America" was the conclusion of the exercises. The society hopes to do all the descendants resident in Southern California into the federation with the aim of effecting a permanent organization with headquarters in the Old World.

The committee having the honor to host the day was composed of Judge W. A. Lamb and Fred W. Noyes.

JOY REACHES A HIGH PITCH ON MOUNT WASHINGTON.

Lofty Peak Near Highland Park Is Scene of Festivities That Include Signal Corps Exhibition, Fireworks, Raising of the Colors and Other Events.

On the heights of Mt. Washington, about a mile west of Highland Park, hundreds of citizens yesterday held a novel celebration of the nation's birthday. From early morning until noon, the air was filled with the sound of music, the sight of flags, and the smell of gunpowder.

Long before the hour set for the formal celebration on Mt. Washington, streams of humans began the ascent of the picturesque elevation. As it is impossible to get nearer than within a mile and a half of the summit, the enthusiasts who were not fortunate enough to possess a buggy were obliged to tramp to the top.

Music by a good band, an excellent band served under the trees, speeches, an exhibition by the Signal Corps, the raising of the colors and a series of contests made up the program. The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday.

The affair was under the auspices of the Mt. Washington Improvement Association, and was the first public gathering ever held by the members. C. W. Hill was master of ceremonies, and the day was a success.

The raising of the Stars and Stripes on the highest point of the hill was accompanied by the bugle call, and the signal was given by the band. The invocation was given by Prof. Hatch, of Occidental College, and the address of the day by Brig.-Gen. John Philip Fonda.

The Signal Corps exhibition was a feature of the day, and the raising of the colors was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday. The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday.

The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday. The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday.

The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday. The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday.

The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday. The day was a success, and the celebration was a fitting tribute to the nation's birthday.

MRS. ELMER F. WOODBURY, whose singing stirred the New Englanders to great enthusiasm.

often as battlements—the fierce charge amid the hall of musketry or at the very jaws of defiant cannon—the dying and the dead in sad fellowship on hillside and in ravine, the grain waved crimson in the sun and violets lifted their blood-enameled faces to the dew—these are the scenes of human harvests swung his pitiless scythe, and gathered abundant and immortal sheaves—the pale faces of wives and mothers and sweethearts at window or in doorway, waving adieu to retreating loved ones in the distance, and then turning bravely to the dull routine of saddened homes—the graves in a hundred cemeteries, whose marbles are sculptured with the names of those who died in battle or wasted away in the grip of disease. We recall, also, in reverent gratitude, the old meeting-house upon the green, the red schoolhouse at the bend in the highway, and the town house on the common—shades of a free people, whose civic beacons have filled the world with light for more than two centuries. (Cheers.)

For all this we can offer no better recompense than to keep inviolate the blessings they so dearly bought. One thing they left upon our flag; it has been washed away since in the mingled blood of a later conflict, where met and died on both sides as true and brave souls as ever shed imperishable glory on the battlefield. Today that banner symbolizes the loyalty, the devotion, the patriotism of the whole American people. We are one nation—the grandest beneath a single flag.

THE DUTY WE FACE.

"But while we remember these material things, something higher and nobler than mere physical strength or scenic beauty—something richer than material wealth or industrial triumphs—should occupy our attention. These naturally gladden our sight and minister to our pride—but that is not all the best. There is a sublimity which towers above factory and mine, a wealth that outvalues the riches of a Croesus, a grandeur beyond the fields of bannered corn or tassel'd wheat, beyond the gleam of flashing rivers or sky-mirroring lakes, above crowded warehouses or bustling bins. There is a height of character and a wealth of achievement beside which these others are but as dull dross beside the shining gold.

I have never felt that this mighty amphitheater, our thousand-foot lip of matchless territory was reserved of God through countless centuries in virgin purity, to become the abode of tagalongs and the march of human progress, nor to shelter a hermit nation, that was content to enjoy in seclusion its priceless benefits. It was never intended to be forever in the clutch of cruel greed, nor suffer long the tyranny of selfish interests or corporate control.

"Ours is an industrial and commercial age. It is an age of iron and gold; I sometimes think it, also, an age of brass. But it is essentially an age of possibilities such as never dawned before, of improvements such as man has never known, of inventions and discoveries which would have beggared the wildest imagination in ancient times, of fabulous fortunes that stagger calculation, of achievements that will remain the wonder of many ages, of boundless enterprises that defy the imagination. It is an age of progress, of achievement, of the grandest piece of national history, of the grandest piece of national history, of the grandest piece of national history.

Every element of physical force, mental skill and scientific knowledge is being actively employed in all these broad fields of enterprise and venture. The tide of prosperity rushes on like a restless flood. Labor, wherever free from trammel, is crowned with opportunities and rewards that are unequalled in the history of the world. Countless charities spread their benefactions on every hand. Our flag floats above the most prosperous nation that ever filled a page in the history of the race. (Applause.)

MUCH YET UNDONE.

"But much remains undone. We fall far short of measuring up to the level of our opportunity and our duty. We are doing the tasks to which these splendid advantages obligate us. Our record thus far one that becomes us as a rich, intelligent, invincible nation? No, we are the God-fearing, man-servant people we ought to be? Are we entirely true to the lessons of the past, or the promises of the future? Are we to prove, after all, that our ancestry produced, not a race of giants, capable of utilizing aright this magnificent land, but a race of pigmies, too feeble to do the duty they expected of us, and accomplish the destiny which is in our keeping?"

"I venture to say that here in this beautiful city, as elsewhere, hundreds—perhaps thousands—of the rich and privileged feel the duty of voting soirkome that they stay away from the primary and even the voting places on election day. Merchants and tradesmen are too busy by day and too lazy or timid of a rainy evening to exercise this highest privilege of a freeman.

"Capable men, men of large affairs and competent to manage successfully, ought to accept our positions of responsibility and power. Why are they unwilling? Let me tell you. It is the almost universal excuse. They say that our political methods are too low; that place has to be purchased today, to be bought in the political market, either by promises of positions to party workers and henchmen, regardless of fitness, or by lavish outlay of money. There is much truth in the charge. Either is vulgar and dishonest. Society ought to frown upon honors thus acquired. These debasing and disgraceful methods should cease. Their elimination will be easily possible when every citizen does his duty. Recent elections East and West demonstrate this.

"Make clean the avenues to honorable station. Drive out the hirelings who make merchandise of their political influence. Make political parties open and free. Scourge the peddler of scandal, the assassin of character and the poisoner of the public mind. Give your favor, influence and vote only to such as will exercise public office as a public trust. Reject the candidate who wears a tag or a collar—who owes allegiance to wealth or labor, to a party, to a faction, to a boss in broadcloth or in frock—who is not loyal to the nation, to the people, to the master of himself." (Applause.)

Insurance Company of North America

PHILADELPHIA

To Policy Holders

The following telegram from President Charles Platt sets forth the attitude of the old "NORTH AMERICA" in regard to its San Francisco policy holders:

"All reports from San Francisco or elsewhere representing that the INSURANCE COMPANY OF NORTH AMERICA has proposed to settle its San Francisco losses on the basis of a flat reduction of 25 per cent. or of any other per cent. are untrue. Not a cent less than strict honesty and square dealing demand will be offered the assured; anything different would be contrary to the uniform record of the company for more than a hundred years. Every loss is being taken up, adjusted and paid on its merits, or as equal and exact justice may dictate. No more can be asked and no less will be given. If, in any case, a deduction is called for on account of earthquake damage, which is not covered by a policy of fire insurance, no more than what is just and reasonable is asked or expected. Adjustments on the above basis are rapidly progressing."

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

HOUSEHOLDERS' GIFT OF TONGUE.

FANATICAL SECT IN PASADENA PROVES BOISTEROUS.

Neighbors complain, and the City Council instructs Police to Attend to Worshipers, but They Continue Meetings—Some Wild and Glibberish Sounds Emitted.

Office of The Times, No. 35 S. Raymond Ave., Pasadena, July 4.—A fanatical sect known as the "Household of God" is holding forth in a tent on North Fair Oaks avenue, near the Throop Institute, and all day long there has been some complaint concerning the amount of noise which the "Householders" are making, and Monday night the roomers in a neighboring lodging-house emptied buckets of water on the worshippers in an attempt to quiet them.

It was announced that an all-night meeting would be held last night, but there was no such objection to the idea that the matter was brought up before the City Council, and the police were instructed to see that the neighborhood was not disturbed. At an early hour today, however, the services were begun and were continued throughout the day.

One of the features of the afternoon meeting was the "gift of tongues" which descended upon the worshippers. One of the preachers announced that he had attended a meeting in which a short time before, at which the gift of tongues was bestowed upon several of the congregation, and that the fortunate ones had then gone forth into the missionary field to teach the heathen.

At the conclusion of his address several of those present became possessed of the idea that they had been favored in a like manner, and with wild sounds they began to speak their gibberish. Just what tongues were being spoken was not announced, but it must have been a mixture of Hindi and Russian, if one could judge by the amount of coughing and sneezing that was required to pronounce the words.

Most of the congregation seemed willing to confine their talking to simple ejaculations, but one very earnest woman delivered a long and rambling sermon in the new tongue with which she had been endowed.

In the course of their testimony many members of the congregation became much excited, and ran up and down the aisles, wringing their hands and calling upon all present to witness that they were saved.

Another convert, a fragile, refined-looking young man, announced that he had turned his glasses the day before, and that before coming to this meeting he had, in response to divine commands, discarded his first necktie and then his collar.

One man of divine healing, who had the power of divine healing, and another stated that he had formerly possessed it, but that within the last few months it had been allowed to lapse. As he was extremely anxious to again practice the arts of the physician, he asked the congregation to pray that the power might be again vouchsafed him.

Most of the converts who testified here the marks of extreme poverty upon their persons, and about the only well-dressed man in the crowd in the aisle, prosperous-looking preacher, who conducts the meetings.

ART STORE BURNED.
The Japanese art goods store of R. Klinger on East Colorado street, was gutted by fire late this evening. The proprietor of the store and his clerk had closed up for the night and gone to Central Park, where they were shooting off fireworks. A few minutes after they had gone a passer-by noticed that there was a blaze in the rear of the store and telephoned in the alarm.

The department responded promptly, and within five minutes of the time the alarm was turned in there were two streams at work.

The blaze started in the back of the store and as far as can be learned, was caused by a cigarette being left on a counter. Luckily nearly all of the fireworks had been removed, and consequently the firemen were able to do their work without fear of explosion.

The occupants of the rooming-house located over the store were badly frightened and several of them started to flee. The firemen, however, were so quick to quiet their fears and impressed upon them the fact that there was but little danger of their being burned out.

The damage, principally by water, will amount to probably $1200, fully covered by insurance.

BURGLARS BUSY.
The home of Robert Russell at No. 722 East Washington street was entered this forenoon by burglars and $5 in cash and a gold watch were stolen. Entrance to the house was forced while the family was at the beach and the marauders left no trace of their being there.

The house was entered through a back window, the door being cut out. The entire building was ransacked and every drawer and closet turned upside down. It is thought that the burglars may have been in the house while the family was leaving and have forced his entrance as soon as they were out of sight.

The police have hopes of apprehending the burglar as the watch can be identified without difficulty in case the man endeavors to dispose of it.

DEATH OF DOCTOR.
Astor V. Talbert, M.D., died late yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 278 East Villa street. Dr. Talbert was 58 years old and had resided here since 1903. He was a minister of the Friends' Church and held a high place in his church in Southern California. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. H. R. Keats officiating. The body will be shipped East for interment.

SOCIAL GOSSIP.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Vinson, No. 134 North Marengo avenue, a jolly company of young people spent the day celebrating the fourth anniversary of the death of Master Thomas Vinson. The band of little friends assembled early and until noon were busy with a large assortment of fireworks. A luncheon was served on the lawn and after a few games there were more fireworks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geoghegan entertained today with an all-day picnic for a coterie of friends. Luncheon was enjoyed in the large fernery recently completed, where tables were placed.

The Minute Men of the J.O.C. Club of the First Methodist Church went to Redondo for the day.

The only New Englanders who spent the day at home were those who could not get away. All the rest went to Eastlake Park to the New England Association picnic.

Mount Lowe cars were crowded this morning and hundreds of Los Angeles joined the excursionists. Through cars were run by the Pacific Electric from Pasadena to Long Beach, and many parties sought the cool sea breeze.

Luther Severy and H. S. Ross, two popular young men of Pasadena, have arranged for a vacation of several weeks to be spent on a yacht. They will go to Catalina Island some time this month.

Next Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Severy, Mrs. L. Severy, Mrs. J. Hibben, Misses Hazel and Irene Severy will leave for Catalina to stay a month.

Mrs. Charles Coleman who was burned seriously in the fire a few days ago is said to be recovering as well as can be hoped. Mrs. Coleman is at the home of Mr. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coleman.

The president of the San Gabriel Valley Bank, Frank C. Bolt, has received the gratifying news from his daughter, Mrs. Bolt, who was in the Plymouth disaster, that they were unhurt.

All Saints Episcopal Sunday-school scholars will go to Long Beach Saturday for a picnic. The picnic will be at the home of Mr. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coleman.

Much interest is felt in the coming marriage of Miss Vera Jones, of Los Angeles, and Frederick Proudfoot of Pasadena. Both have lived most of their lives in this city and have many friends. Miss Jones has been for several years a resident of Los Angeles.

DEATH OF PASADENA.
The death of Mrs. H. Maria Sherman, wife of Rev. Roger Sherman, pastor of the Adventist Christian church, occurred this morning at the pastoral home on North Marengo avenue. Mrs. Sherman was a notable woman and her death removes from among Christian workers one whose usefulness has been widespread. She was born in Weymouth, Mass., February 1, 1848, and spent her earlier years in that city.

After a time as the matron of the "Faith Home" in Boston, conducted by Dr. Cullen, she went as a missionary to South America under the direction of Bishop Taylor and was associated there with many well-known missionaries. In 1886 married Rev. Roger Sherman and together they devoted their lives to the poor and wretched in Boston. When they came to Pasadena it was thought for a few days that she was suffering from a cold, but her health steadily failed.

Notwithstanding her feebleness, she did not give up work for the missions, and when the Adventists persuaded Dr. Sherman to take their church, she undertook the primary classes in the Sunday-school and other work. She was at the time of her death the president of the Southern California Woman's Home and Foreign Society in the Adventist denomination. In the early spring she was very ill and underwent a long and painful operation at the Pasadena Hospital. During the trying time and in her subsequent illness she was the same strong and unselfish woman who had drawn about her in many parts of the world a host of loving friends. Besides a husband, she leaves a sister and two brothers, Mr. Sherman and his brother will take the body back to her girlhood home at Weymouth, Mass.

LOCAL BRIEFS.
Rubio Cañon and the Arroyo Seco attracted a large number of Pasadena today and all of the east-bound cars on the Altadena route were kept busy throughout the day handling the crowds that climb the mountains for their celebrations.

MAN-EATER IS CAPTURED.
While Fishing Near Redondo, He Hooks an Ugly Carnivorous Shark Three Miles from Shore—Measures Thirty Feet in Length—Has Three Rows of Teeth.

REDONDO, July 4.—The largest man-eating shark ever captured in the waters of Redondo was brought in today by Capt. Hans Carstensen of the launch Challenger.

The captain was out fishing for barracuda, and, about three miles from shore, when he suddenly had an extremely strong "strike." Investigation showed that he had captured a man-eater. The shark gave a hard fight, but was successfully landed. It measured thirty feet in length.

This undoubtedly is the largest monster of the kind ever captured near here. It is an extremely ugly fish, with three formidable rows of sharp teeth. It is unusually dark, and is said to be a rare specimen.

CROWD CELEBRATES.
An immense crowd visited the beach here today, and everything passed off quietly. The cars on the Los Angeles & Redondo Railway came in double and the Santa Fe Railway Co. sent trains in with double headers and an extremely long line of coaches all crowded.

The ships in the harbor presented a very pretty sight, all being prettily decorated with flags and bunting. The business houses were also decorated in the national colors.

The advance guard of the delegations to the Division Encampment of the Sons of Veterans, which will open here tomorrow, has appeared. Among those who have arrived either here or Los Angeles are Senior Vice-commander H. A. Longfellow, A. S. Ormsby (commander for division commander), Dan Harkins and Mr. McCurdy of Oakland.

ONE THOUSAND GO PICNICKING.
GREAT CROWDS SPEND FOURTH NEAR MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, July 4.—A thousand or more people passed a quiet Fourth of July in the hills of Santa Anita and Fish cañons. Most of them came from Los Angeles, via the Pacific Electric, and the hills were crowded until late in the afternoon. The lower valley was also well represented, many ranchers and their families coming a considerable distance in their carriages.

Quarantined by Officer J. F. Miller to assist the rangers, in enforcing forestry regulations, were stationed at the entrance to the Monrovia Cañon and relieve all comers of fire arms and fireworks. Checks were given to the owners to enable them to recover their "artillery" when they returned.

Fires started in the deep, narrow cañons. The cost is nothing compared with the comfort the housewife can take in her cool, airy kitchen when she burns GAS for Fuel.

CROWDS BIG AT OCEAN PARK.

BEACH AGLOW WITH PATRIOTIC DECORATIONS.

Many Villages Turn Out En Masse to Participate in Observation of the Glorious Fourth—Hundreds of Private Picnic Parties—Eight-Oar Barge Race an Interesting Feature.

OCEAN PARK, July 4.—The beach today was aglow with decorations of flags and bunting, and the observation of the one hundred and thirtieth anniversary of the nation's birthday. A fog obscured the sun and with a light breeze from off the sea the day was pleasant, but a trifle too cool to satisfy the tastes of the vendors of lemonade.

The first cars that arrived from the city in the morning carried comfortable loads; and as the day grew older, standing-room on the common carriers was at a premium.

People flocked to the seashore from all directions. The Los Angeles-Pacific electric line had every passenger coach in commission, and all cars ran through to the seashore.

Hollywood, Colgrove, Sherman, The Palms, and all villages, hamlets and crossroads between Los Angeles and the sea contributed almost their entire population to assist in swelling the crowds along the shore.

At the beach from North Beach in Santa Monica, clear through Ocean Park and Venice and on down to the termination of the promenade on the Strand, the beach was a scene of hundreds of private picnic-dinner parties, while every foot of the three-mile stretch of surf attracted unnumbered bathers.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the morning's program was the eight-oar barge race on the ocean. The contesting teams were from Ocean Park and Playa del Rey. The course was a mile long, from the pier to the White Star pier on Hollister avenue.

The race was a three-heat one, and each heat was a race in itself. The Ballona boys won the first and last, each by a few seconds, while the Ocean Parkers won the second heat by two seconds. During the contest the piers and the beach for the entire distance were one solid mass of humanity, the number of spectators running high into the thousands.

At the bandstand in the new pavilion facing Ocean Front, the All-American band of fifty pieces rendered concerts during the day. The roller skating rink, which has been built on piling over the water, occupies the entire space between Marine street and Pier avenue.

At 3:30 o'clock an electric auto started on short run through the business streets, scattering a trail of colored paper and three minutes later the parade started. The parade was over the outlined route. Twelve started, but only four finished. Robert Connelly finished first, in four minutes, with William Ball second.

At 10:30 o'clock the annual parade took place. Compared with former years the all-American float was more elaborate, but it was more than balanced by the remarkable display of automobiles, there being over fifty in line.

The best float was that of the Y.M.C.A., showing a camp and a repetition of the fruits of a recent trip of thirty days.

Another novel feature was that of Housemover McCreary, who paraded two timbers, 18x13 inched, evidently a portion of some mighty monarch of the forest.

The Pomona Cadets and Co. H. Seventh Regiment, presented a fine appearance and won applause along the route. The judges awarded prizes to the Y.M.C.A. float, Capt. A. W. McDonald's auto, the Pomona Cadets and Hose Company No. 1 of the Fire Department.

After the parade the crowd took up its restless movement, hunting for shady spots to enjoy family picnic dinners, or for a mile in either direction to the beach and the water.

Thousands sported in the surf and over the piers. The two skating rinks, the beach and the water, were crowded with people. The day was a happy one for all.

The day was happily free from accidents occasioned by the premature discharge of fireworks or the explosion of bombs. Fortunately the beach was a safe place for a picnic, and the more serious than the excitement caused by an inconsequential brush fire. The best of order prevailed during the day, and the police were called upon in only a few instances to quiet trivial disturbances. Of burglaries and robberies there were none of importance.

BIGGEST YET AT POMONA.

CELEBRATION DRAWS MANY FROM NEAR AND FAR.

City Jammed With People, and Magnificent Parade of Over One Hundred Floats Proves an Interesting Feature—Merchants Respond to Call.

POMONA, July 4.—By far the biggest celebration ever held here was that which has occurred today. The city has been jammed with people and a "good time" has been the verdict of all.

The parade this morning was the finest ever gotten up here, there being over one hundred floats and decorated vehicles in line, which showed much ingenuity in arrangement.

The merchants responded well to the call for industrial and trades floats, spending money liberally in decorating their displays. The Pomona Improvement Company, Pomona Manufacturing Company, Poston & Co., Pomona Department Store, Orange Belt Emporium, Country the Bowler Dry Goods Store, the meat markets, the fraternal orders and fire department all made fine exhibits and there were tandems, automobiles, bicycles, etc. Bradley & Russell, hardware merchants, entered a neat white armored cruiser, armed with little toy cannons, and a range of auto gear, from which cannon and explosives were fired all along the line of parade.

The Goddess Pomona, (Miss Helen Booth), was enthroned upon a fancy fruit float, representing Pomona today, upon which was a huge orange, 10 feet in diameter, with many oranges, and with the words, "We Too." Pomona thirty years ago was represented by a sheep-ranch scene. The shepherd, his wife and a group of country people, with live lambs and calves, made this float a reminder of by-gone days.

At Goshawk Park short addresses were delivered by Rev. T. T. Crewe, J. Albert Dole, J. Vincent Hannon and J. E. McComas. Mrs. Hibben and Hazel Rinn rendered vocal numbers. There was also music by the band.

The big barbecue was well attended and everyone had a royal time. It has been a great day for the country people and Spanish families who have poured here in crowds.
